FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Monster Tower Now Your Direct Source for Wet Sounds Speakers

Alpharetta, GA - April 14, 2008 -Monster Tower, the most popular aftermarket wakeboard tower and accessories company, is pleased to announce a partnership with Texas based Wet Sounds™ to distribute award winning wakeboard tower and in-boat speakers like the popular PRO 80 directly to consumers at <http://www.MonsterTower.com>.

With professional grade components and extensive acoustical engineering specifically targeted for marine applications and wakeboard towers in particular, Wet Sounds™ tower speakers use horn loaded compression drivers to direct sound that can be heard clearly even while riding 80 feet behind the boat. Because of the pro audio sound quality, with Wet Sounds™ products on a tower and in the boat, it takes fewer speakers and less overall investment to create amazing sound clarity as compared to competitor speakers using car audio technology with a mediocre result.

Built for tough marine conditions and backed by a 1 year warranty, Monster Tower will sell the speakers online directly to consumers at www.monstertower.com in conjunction with its already broad accessory offering of both Monster and XTP products.

"Wet Sounds' speakers will fit any wakeboard tower, universal or factory and MonsterTower.com already sells a variety of universal accessories." commented Tim White, Wet Sounds™ Founder and President. "With its already broad customer base and its premium XTP Series of products, we are excited for the Wet Sounds speakers to reach consumers via the MonsterTower.com website."

"Thousands of happy Monster Tower owners know Monster Tower sells proven quality products at an excellent value so the Wet Sounds product fits right in." said Tony Williams, President of MAC Tower Solutions, the division that includes Monster Tower and Xtreme Tower Products. "Wet Sounds™ speakers provide a professional audio experience while adding fantastic aesthetic appeal and style to any tower."

Consumers purchasing Wet Sounds™ speakers at www.MonsterTower.com will receive FREE SHIPPING. Please visit the www.MonsterTower.com for more details or call 877-778-6937.
